News from the National Office . . .

Dear NPM Member:

For several months, the NPM Board of Directors and the Association's President, Rev. Msgr. Richard Hilgartner, have been searching for someone who might function as a full-time president and CEO for the Association. This search was undertaken in light of Msgr. Hilgartner's increasing pastoral responsibilities in the Archdiocese of Baltimore as well as his commitment to assisting with liturgical development for the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops. In undertaking this search, the Board of Directors identified the needs of the Association and the corresponding skills a new President/CEO would ideally possess to meet these needs.

Now the Board of Directors of the National Association of Pastoral Musicians has completed its national search for a new President/CEO of the Association, and we are pleased to announce to you that we are hiring Mr. Steve Petrunak. Steve will assume the full-time role of NPM's President/CEO on May 1, 2017. In the interim, beginning December 5, 2016, he will begin a transitional role with NPM as Vice President for NPM Operations. Msgr. Rick Hilgartner will remain as NPM's President/CEO until May 1, 2017, at which time he will begin serving the Association on the Board of Directors as Director of Ecclesial Mission and Identity. Msgr. Hilgartner has served in an advisory capacity to the Board throughout this search process and is supportive of the Board's choice of his successor.

13th Annual Gathering of the Musicians of Southern Maryland

Saturday, January 28, 2017

11:30 AM - 2:30 PM

Ann Duchesne's home on Breton Bay

As usual, the primary focus of the Gathering is the sharing of experiences in pastoral music in this beautiful part of the Archdiocese. We'll also take a look at the revised Order of Celebrating Marriage.

FEE: None – includes Ann's delicious lunch

REGISTRATION: Call Ann (240-577-1236) or Charlene (301-384-5796) by January 25 to give her a head count and to obtain directions.

Director's Corner

Happy New Year! It's a tradition to make resolutions at the beginning of a new year. I'm resolving to be more patient with the task of helping assemblies take full, conscious, and active participation in the liturgy. At least I hope to try. (It's not just a job for pastoral musicians, but we do play a crucial role.)

The first step will be to accept the challenges as givens and to work around them. Challenges such as:

1. Focusing on the assembly's understanding that we sing the liturgy – the dialogues and acclamations – not just a few hymns/songs when we gather for Mass;
2. Making sure that an assembly "finds its voice" by including a cappella pieces and avoiding overpowering instrumentation or cantor/choir leadership;
3. Finding a balance between old and new music; (Folks like to sing what they know, but the same-old, same-old can be deadly.)
4. Recognizing that some of the new music is better suited for retreats, private prayer, choir performance pieces, etc. than for assemblies to sing in public prayer;
5. Learning what music neighboring churches (including other Christian ones) are using so that our parishioners can sing when they attend services elsewhere.

How do I plan to do all of this? I don't know – that's where the patience part comes in. But I'm sure it's worth the effort.

Are you making any resolutions this year? I hope they work for you.

A Word About the February Workshop

NPM/DC is delighted to offer an opportunity for pastoral musicians to work closely with Lynné Gray and Valeria Foster. These two nationally recognized musicians will present the African American Sacred Music workshop on Saturday morning, February 4, at St. Camillus in Silver Spring. The workshop will focus on ways to include this important music in your parish repertoire. The day will begin with an overview presentation; this will be followed by breakout sessions for piano accompanists and for singers.

We are blest in Washington DC to have two musicians with exceptional experience in African American Sacred Music. Don't miss this workshop where they will share their rich experience and unique resources. If you are interested in bringing African American Sacred Music to your faith communities, be sure to attend. You will not be disappointed.

Peace,

Charlene Dorrian
Director, Washington DC Chapter

Many of you know Steve Petrunak well as director of music who has established a solid and wonderful music program at St. Blase Parish in Sterling Heights, Michigan. Others of you may know Steve as a published composer and recording artist of sacred music. Still others know him as a dedicated and long-time member of NPM who has served as convention coordinator, presenter, performer, writer, event director, Council member, and Board member. He is currently the co-chair of NPM's National Committee for Finance and Development and is responsible for writing and beginning to enact an aggressive development plan.

What you may not know about Steve is that before he became a full-time pastoral musician, he was a successful businessman, who rose from an entry-level position to executive management in a manufacturing service center in the steel industry. This proven success in organizational management in the business sector, added to his demonstrated skills in development and fundraising, his knowledge of and passion for NPM, and his skills and success as a pastoral musician made Steve a clear choice as NPM's new President and CEO. We are extremely grateful that he is willing to take on the responsibility of leading this Association, relocating from Michigan to the DC area, to take NPM into the future. Msgr. Hilgartner states: "Steve's gifts... his financial and administrative background combined with his experience as a musician . . . are a rare find and a necessary combination. He is passionate about NPM's mission and he has the skills and experience to lead."

This announcement is the culmination of a national search conducted by the Board of Directors in which fifteen candidates were nominated for our consideration. We are extremely grateful to all who assisted with and were contacted in this process, those who gave this position serious consideration by providing letters of interest and CVs, and those who continued in this process through the personal interview phase. All are valued members and leaders in our Association and in our Church, and it is our hope that they remain dedicated to the mission and success of NPM and supportive of our choice of Mr. Steve Petrunak.

Our new President/CEO will be blessed in his new position at the 2017 Annual Convention in Cincinnati this coming July. Please join us in Cincinnati as we congratulate Steve and as we celebrate NPM, moving forward to serve our members and our Church.

NPM Board of Directors: Anne Ketzer, Jeremy Helmes, Lena Gokelman, Sister Kathy Harmon, Meg Matuska, Msgr. Richard Hilgartner

Lenten Retreat for Pastoral Musicians

with Brother Ignacio González, OSB

Saturday, March 4, 2017

9:00 AM – 2:30 PM

St. Anselm's Abbey
4501 South Dakota Avenue, NE, Washington, DC 20017

“Lord, teach us to pray.”

*Brother Ignacio is a native of Austin, Texas and a veteran of the United States Marine Corps. He came to Washington, DC in the mid-1990s to work on Capitol Hill in the office of his local representative. After completing studies at the University of Houston, he returned to Washington to begin a career in both teaching and the foreign-exchange market. He entered St. Anselm's Abbey in 2008 and may his solemn profession in 2014. He currently teaches a religion course on the New Testament plus all levels of Spanish in the Abbey School while working on a Master's degree in Historical and Systematic Theology at the Catholic University of America.

Chapter 11 in the Gospel of Luke begins: One day Jesus was praying in a certain place. When he finished, one of his disciples said to him, "Lord, teach us to pray, just as John taught his disciples." During the retreat we'll consider some traditional approaches to prayer: through Scripture (lectio divina), through the Rosary (active/contemplative), and in silence (contemplative). And, best of all, we'll take some time out of our busy lives to pray!

Registration for the Annual NPM/DC Retreat – March 4, 2017, 9:00 AM - 2:30 PM

Please register by February 24. Further information: 301-384-5796.
